More About Metropolitan

What is it in the Metropolitan area that gives the people such skills? Could it be something in the atmosphere, or something in the soil, or is it the vitamins they eat?

Goose Creek Fair was held on August 12 and at the close of the day Metropolitan Country Club combined with pupils of Metropolitan school had carried off 99 awards not counting a long list of Special Awards.

Of course, the keen interest and intense enthusiasm shown by the club members for the various topics studied and demonstrations taken up during the year might be the factor that gives the following most gratifying results.

First World Championship Plowing Match Is To Be Held On Farm Near Cobourg, Ont.

TORONTO.—This October crack plowmen from 12 countries will be vying for possession of a golden model of what is, in all probability, the great-great-granddaddy of the plow they use from day to day. The winner will be the first tractor plowing champion of the world.

The championship and the trophy, known as the Esso Golden Plow, will be awarded at the first world plowing championship match which will take place on the Durham-Northumberland Counties Home Farm, near Cobourg. It is being held in conjunction with the Ontario Plowmen's Association annual fourth International Match, October 6 to 9.

J. A. Carroll of Toronto, president of the World Championship Plowing Organization, announced that the United States, Denmark and Belgium had confirmed their entries in the match. Competing countries now total 12.

The trophy for the world champion in being jointly offered for annual competition by Imperial Oil in Canada and other interested companies overseas. It has been designed, and is being made by The Goldsmiths and Silversmiths Co. Ltd., of London, the world-famous company of British craftsmen which recognized the crown jewels for the coronation. It will cost about $1,500.

The World Championship Plowing Organization decided its trophy should be symbolic of plowing as an ancient art. The original of the plow selected as a model is in the London (England) Science Museum. It is believed to date from about 1721, though some of its features go back to the 10th Century. Called the Norfolk plow, it was one of the pioneer light plows in England and the continental countries, and the forerunner of nearly all modern plows.

With a pair of husky horses and an equally husky British yeoman behind it, it was capable of turning over about an acre a day—about one-quarter as much as a modern tractor plowman with a one-furrow plow could accomplish.

The finished trophy will be mounted on a mahogany base two feet long, one foot wide and seven inches high. From the top of the plow to the bottom of the base it will stand 18 inches high. The main trophy will be held by the national plowing association of the winning plowman. The world champion will receive a copy about one-third the size.

Word of U.S. entry into the world match was received by Mr. Carroll from Alfred Larson, vice-president of National Association of Soil Conservation Districts. This association sponsors state and area plowing matches, climaxed each year with a national match. The U.S. world competitors will be chosen at Augusta, Wis., September 17-18. Confirmation of the Belgian and Danish entries was received from Alfred Hall, W.C.P.O. secretary in England. Other nations competing are Great Britain, Northern Ireland, Republic of Ireland, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Holland, West Germany and Canada.

Finds Skeleton Of Baby 4,000 Years Old

NEW YORK.—A Wheaton College archaeologist returned from biblical lands with a skeleton of a baby buried by about 4,000 years ago.

Prof. Joseph P. Free said he found the rare relic in the foundations of a wall at Doham, about 60 miles north of Jerusalem.

"There was a little bowl at the child's mouth and a little jug by its head, by one foot, was another jug—plenty of provisions for feeding it in the next life," he said.

The 40-year-old professor said the find appeared to confirm biblical stories of child sacrifices.

"We can't prove that this was such a sacrifice, but it does fit the picture," Free said.

ODDITIES In The News

St. Joseph's Cathedral in Buffalo, N.Y., is believed to be the only church in the world with its steeple in the basement. It was removed many years ago when strong winds threatened to topple it.

Mrs. Larry Wright, Detroit, wasn't too astonished when her three children were stricken with measles. What flabbergasted her was when she received her first traffic ticket while driving to a drug store for a prescription. The ticket was signed by Patrolman Tom Mosel.

William Haryat required hospital treatment in Duncan, B.C., for injuries suffered when he attempted to land a 20-pound salmon. The fish lunged at him and drove a hook through his thumb.

A lawnmower shot its owner in the leg, police reported at Fairview, Ohio. The victim, Robert E. Heinbaugh, said the machine ran over a .22 caliber bullet and exploded it.

Young David Fox, Wadena, Sask., found a sparrow's egg and dropped it into his pocket. When he arrived home he reached for the egg to show his parents and came up with a baby sparrow hatched en route.

INCREASE IN SALES

At the time of the 1951 Census of Distribution there were only three retail drug stores in the Yukon and Northwest Territories, two less than a decade earlier, but sales totalled $168,106 as compared with $97,000 in 1941.

Winner Of Public Speaking Contest

Farmer Holds Key To Soil Erosion Problem

Reminiscent of the early and mid-19th-century in the prairie provinces, the soils are on the move in Texas. Clouds of dust roll across the country, obscuring the sun, covering the highways and fences, seeping into homes, leaving in their wake scenes of despair and desolation.

Farmers, who have prospered in the past, look with worry upon their parched acres. Merchants carry an over-burden of credit in their books. Banks no longer welcome the rural loan-seeker.

While Canadians have been fortunate this year to escape widespread damage from wind erosion, they nevertheless have erosion problems in many districts. Priceless top soil is being washed away by rain and uncontrolled spring floods due to the lack of sound soil conservation practices.

At one time no one thought of soil as a natural resource. Soil, it was generally considered, was an inexhaustible birthright and was used as such. In recent years, however, Canadian soil scientists have come to realize the lack of soil could be depleted like other resources.

This fall a formal course in soil conservation will be established for the first time at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. The Conservation Council of Ontario has been set up, one of its prime functions being the promotion of soil conservation. Canadian chapters of

Good Supply Of Boxcars For Grain

WINNIPEG, Man.—The Canadian wheat board has announced there were sufficient railway boxcars available in Western Canada to provide for the basic 15-bushel delivery quota and the supplementary quota of three bushels per seeded acre.

The board said the railways would continue to provide a steady movement of empty grain cars to all grain-loading stations so room can be made for the 1953 grain crop.

The Soil Conservation Society of America are being formed. Provincial and Federal departments of agriculture have launched long range research programs dealing with soil conservation.

But the problem of soil erosion cannot be licked solely by agricultural scientists, conservation groups or governments. The man who holds the key to the success of any soil conservation program is the farmer because he owns the soil these various bodies are trying to conserve. His co-operation therefore is essential.

Funny and Otherwise

A grocer had difficulty with a doctor who was backward in paying his bills, so he put the matter in the hands of a collector. The man returned looking worried.

"What's the matter?" asked the grocer. "What did the doctor say?"

"Well," replied the collector, "he said I wasn't looking well, examined my tongue, and advised me to remain indoors for a few weeks."

A woman had frowned on her husband for days. Then like a burst of sunshine from a cloudy sky, she smiled.

"Does that mean you forgive me, honey?" he asked.

"Get away, you rascal," she replied. "I was just restin' my face."

"I don't know, George; marriage seems such a solemn thing. Have you counted the cost?"

"The cost, darling! Why, my cousin's a clergyman. He'll marry us for nothing."

Asking at the druggist's for his favorite brand of hair cream, a young man was told it was out of stock, but he was offered a substitute.

"Is it as good as the brand I normally use?" he asked.

"Well," replied the druggist, "it's a kind of superior equivalent."

I met my wife at a travel bureau. She was looking for a vacation, and I was the last resort.

A rather stout schoolmistress was talking about birds and their habits. "Now," she said, "at home I have a canary, and it can do something I cannot do. I wonder if any of you know just what that thing is?"

"I know teacher," said little Eric, "take a bath in a saucer!"

"Now, boys," said the teacher, "always remember that you should never end a sentence with the word 'with'."

"That is," he went on hurriedly, "unless you have nothing else to end it with."

Man (on telephone): I'd like to put through a call to Damariscott, Maine.

Operator: How do you spell it, please?

Man: Look, lady, if I could spell it, I'd write.
